Disclosure of personal data to third parties

We disclose personal data to: legal and regulatory authorities; our external advisors; our processors; any party as necessary in connection with legal proceedings; any party as necessary for investigating, detecting or preventing criminal offences; and any purchaser of our business; and any third party providers of advertising or content used on our sites.

We disclose personal data to other entities within the Yaqrit group and to our business partners (licensing partners and distributors), for legitimate business purposes and the operation of our sites, products, or services to you, in accordance with applicable law. In addition, we disclose personal data to:

- you and, where appropriate, your appointed representatives;
- legal and regulatory authorities, upon request, or for the purposes of reporting any actual or suspected breach of applicable law or regulation;
- accountants, auditors, consultants, lawyers and other outside professional advisors to Yaqrit subject to binding contractual obligations of confidentiality;
- third party processors (such as clinical trial-related service providers; payment services providers; shipping companies; Web service providers etc., e.g. Amazon Web Services, Google Analytics, Microsoft Azure), located anywhere in the world;
- any relevant party, regulatory body, governmental authority, law enforcement agency or court, to the extent necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims;
- any relevant party, regulatory body, governmental authority, law enforcement agency or court, for the purposes of prevention, investigation, detection or prosecution of criminal offences or the execution of criminal penalties;
- any relevant third-party acquirer(s) or successor(s) in title, in the event that we sell or transfer all or any relevant portion of our business or assets (including in the event of a reorganization, dissolution or liquidation); and
- any relevant third-party provider, where our sites use third party advertising or content. If you choose to interact with any such advertising or content, your personal data may be shared with the relevant third-party provider. We recommend that you review that third party's privacy policy before interacting with its advertising or content.

If we engage a third-party processor to process your personal data, the processor will be subject to binding contractual obligations to: (i) only process the personal data in accordance with our prior written instructions; and (ii) use measures to protect the confidentiality and security of the personal data; together with any additional requirements under applicable law.

International transfers of personal data

We transfer personal data to data processors, joint data controllers and recipients in other countries. Where we transfer personal data from the UK or the EEA to a recipient outside the UK or the EEA (as applicable) that is not in an adequate jurisdiction, we do so on the basis of standard contractual clauses or the UK equivalent (i.e., the UK International Data Transfer Agreement / UK addendum to the Standard Contractual Clauses).

Because of the international nature of our business, we transfer personal data within the Yaqrit group, and to third parties in connection with the purposes set out in this notice. For this reason, we transfer personal data to other countries that may have different laws and data protection compliance requirements to those that apply in the country in which you are located. For example, we could transfer your data to European Member States (Austria, Germany, France, Belgium, Spain, Italy, Portugal, the Netherlands, Finland, Sweden), countries in the EEA (e.g. Norway, Switzerland), as well as countries outside the EEA that do not provide an adequate level of protection for your personal data (e.g. India). Non-EU countries include the United States, India, Australia and New Zealand.

If an exemption or derogation applies (e.g., where a transfer is necessary to establish, exercise or defend a legal claim) we may rely on that exemption or derogation, as appropriate. Where no exemption or derogation applies, and we transfer your personal data from the UK or the EEA to recipients located outside the UK or the EEA (as applicable) who are not in adequate jurisdictions, we do so on the basis of the latest valid version of the European Commission's Standard Contractual Clauses or the UK equivalent (i.e., the UK International Data Transfer Agreement / UK addendum to the Standard Contractual Clauses), as applicable.

Data security

The security of your personal data is of paramount importance to us. As such, we strive to implement the most appropriate and state-of-the-art technical and organisational security measures to protect your personal data against breaches of confidentiality, integrity and availability.

We have implemented appropriate technical and organisational security measures (such as end-to-end encryption, pentesting, incident response management, malware alerts and remediation actions) designed to protect your personal data against accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, alteration, unauthorised disclosure, unauthorised access, and other unlawful or unauthorised forms of processing, in accordance with applicable law.

Because the internet is an open system, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we will implement all reasonable measures to protect your personal data, we cannot guarantee the security of your data transmitted to us using the “open” internet. As such, any such transmission via the open channels of the Internet is at your own risk and you are responsible for ensuring that any personal data that you send to us are sent securely. It is recommended that if there is the risk identified to the transmission of data, protective measures such as encryption are used in line with commonly used methods.

Data accuracy

We take every reasonable step to ensure that your personal data are kept accurate and up-to-date and are erased or rectified if we become aware of inaccuracies or if you bring them to our attention.

We take every reasonable step to ensure that:

- your personal data that we process are accurate and, where necessary, kept up-to-date; and
- any of your personal data that we process that are inaccurate (having regard to the purposes for which they are processed) are erased or rectified without delay.

From time to time we may ask you to confirm the accuracy of your personal data.

- where we process your relevant personal data on the basis of your consent, the right to withdraw that consent (noting that such withdrawal does not affect the lawfulness of any processing performed prior to the date on which we receive notice of such withdrawal, and does not prevent the processing of your personal data in reliance upon any other available legal bases); and
- the right to lodge complaints regarding the processing of your relevant personal data with a data protection authority (i.e., in relation to the UK, the Information Commissioner's Office (<https://ico.org.uk/>) or in relation to the EU, the Data Protection Authority for EU Member State in which you live, or in which you work, or in which the alleged infringement occurred (see the list here: https://edpb.europa.eu/about-edpb/about-edpb/members_en)).

- The right to object to the Processing of your Relevant Personal Data by us or on our behalf for direct marketing purposes

Please note that:

- in some cases it will be necessary to provide evidence of your identity before we can give effect to these rights; and

Strictly necessary cookies

The strictly necessary cookies help make a website usable by enabling basic functions like page navigation and access to secure areas of the website. These cookies are necessary for the website to function and cannot be switched off in our systems. They are usually only set in response to actions made by you which amount to a request for services, such as setting your privacy preferences, logging in or filling in forms. You may be able to decline these cookies through your browser, but necessary parts of the site will not then work. These cookies do not store any personally identifiable information.

Functional cookies

These cookies enable the website to provide enhanced functionality and personalization. They may be set by us or by third-party providers whose services we have added to our pages. If you do not allow these cookies then some or all of these services may not function properly.

Performance cookies

These cookies allow us to count visits and traffic sources so we can measure and improve the performance of our site. They help us to know which pages are the most and least popular and see how visitors move around the site.

Marketing cookies

These cookies are used to track our visitors' browsing habits. They can be used to build up a profile of search and/or browsing history for every visitor. Identifiable or unique data is collected to show relevant/personalized marketing content to each user. The information that uniquely identifies users' browsers and internet devices is used to display targeted advertising and/or share this data with third parties for the same purpose

Refusing cookies
